unRAR restriction

The decompression engine for RAR archives was developed using source code of unRAR program.

All copyrights to original unRAR code are owned by Alexander Roshal.

The license for original unRAR code has the following restriction:

The unRAR sources cannot be used to re-create the RAR compression algorithm, which is proprietary. Distribution of modified unRAR sources in separate form or as a part of other software is permitted, provided that it is clearly stated in the documentation and source comments that the code may not be used to develop a RAR (WinRAR) compatible archiver.

Supplemental License Text	In addition to the terms and restrictions set forth in Vocera’s End User License Agreement (“EULA”), the following additional terms apply to the Java Mail portions of the Vocera product licensed from Oracle Corporation (“Oracle”): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • End User may not create, modify, or change the behavior of classes, interfaces, or subpackages that are in any way identified as “java”, Javax”, “sun” or similar convention as specified by Oracle in any naming convention designation. • End User has no right to access, copy, distribute, display or use the Oracle software to provide diagnostic, maintenance, repair or technical support services for Oracle software or Oracle hardware on behalf of any third party. • End User is prohibited from publication of any results of benchmark tests run on the Oracle software programs. • Oracle software may contain programs that perform automated collection of system data and/or automated software updating services. System data collected through such programs may be used by Oracle, its subcontractors, and its service delivery partners for the purpose providing you with remote system services and/or improving Oracle’s software and systems. • Oracle software is not designed, licenses or intended for use in the design, construction, operation or maintenance of any nuclear facility and Oracle and its licensors disclaim any express or implied warranty of fitness for such uses. • During End User’s use of the Oracle software and for a period of three (3) years thereafter, End User agrees to keep proper records and documentation of End User’s compliance with the EULA with respect to Java Mail. Upon Oracle’s reasonable request, End User will provide copies of such records and documentation to Oracle for the purpose of confirming such compliance. This section will survive any termination of the EULA. • The Vocera license does not include maintenance and support of the Java Mail by Oracle

Java Platform Runtime Edition

General Information
Source Code Status	Not modified by Vocera
URL	http://www.oracle.com/technetwork/java/archive-139210.html

Supplemental License Text

The following additional restrictions apply to portions of the Vocera product licensed from Oracle Corporation for Java Platform Runtime Edition (“JRE”):

- End User may not create, modify, or change the behavior of classes, interfaces, or subpackages that are in any way identified as “java”, Javax”, “Sun” or similar convention as specified by Oracle in any naming convention designation.
- End User acknowledges that Oracle owns the Java trademark and all Java-related trademarks, logos and icons including the Coffee Cup and Duke (“Java Marks”) and agrees to (a) comply with the Java Trademark Guidelines at <http://www.oracle.com/us/legal/third-party-trademarks/index.html>; (b) not do anything harmful to or inconsistent with Oracle’s rights in the Java Marks; and (c) assist Oracle in protecting those rights, including assigning to Oracle any rights acquired by the End User in any Java Mark.
- End User acknowledges that the Oracle software may include source code that, unless expressly licensed for other purposes, is provided solely for reference purposes pursuant to the terms of the EULA.
- The Oracle software may include third party technology as specified in the applicable documentation. Additional copyright notices and licenses terms applicable to portions of the Oracle software are set forth in the THIRDPARTYLICENSEREADME.txt file distributed with the Oracle software.
- End User agrees that Vocera may audit End User’s use of the Oracle software upon thirty (30) days’ notice to End User. In the event that End User is found not in material compliance with the terms and conditions relating to the Oracle software, then End User agrees to reimburse the auditing party for the reasonable and necessary cost of the audit and any related license fees. End User agrees that Vocera may assign Vocera’s right to audit under this section to Oracle or report the results of any such audit performed to Oracle.
- Any use of Commercial Features not expressly included in the EULA for any commercial or production purposes requires a separate license from Oracle. “Commercial Features” means those features identified in Table 1-1 (Commercial Features In Java SE Product Editions) of the Program Documentation accessible at <http://www.oracle.com/technetwork/java/javase/documentation/index.html>.
- End User is prohibited from publication of any results of benchmark tests run on the Oracle software.
- End user will not engage in any conduct that may be detrimental to Oracle or the Oracle software.
- End User is prohibited from redistributing the Oracle software or installing or using the Oracle software separately and independently from the Vocera product in which it is embedded.
- Oracle software is not designed, licenses or intended for use in the design, construction, operation or maintenance of any nuclear, chemical or biological weapons proliferation, or development of missile technology.
- The Vocera license does not include maintenance and support of the Oracle software by Oracle. End User agrees and acknowledges that End User has not relied on the future availability of any Oracle software or update.
